self-interest certainly indicates that they should have them, and build up home interests in every practicable way. In the various respects, this company claims equality with its co-workers, and in the following priority: It obtains the greater portion of its business in the healthiest portion of the United States, thus having the advantage of a less per centage of loss; it receives higher rates of interest on its investments, thus making more rapid accumulations—its most important item is Life Insurance; and its expenses have been less in proportion to its business than any other new company doing business in the United States.

Public Meeting.

The citizens of the city of Janesville are invited to meet at the COURT ROOM on SATURDAY EVENING, the 26th inst., at half-past seven o'clock, to take such measures as may be deemed most appropriate to commemorate on Thursday next the death of our late governor, the Hon. L. P. HARVEY.

J. BODWELL DOE, Mayor.

JANESVILLE, April, 24, 1862.

Proceedings of the City Council.

REGULAR MEETING.

TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 24TH, 1862.

Present.—The Mayor, Ald. Bates, Barnes, Collins, McChesney, Patten, Pattison, Shelton and Winans.

The bonds of the Mayor, City Clerk and the new aldermen were approved.

On motion of Ald. Bates the rules governing the late council were adopted for the present council.

The Mayor read the following message:

Gentlemen of the Council:—Many of our friends and neighbors have gone from us to fight the battles of our common country. They fight with deadly weapons, and in their strife for the preservation of the republic, many hearts are made sad by the loss of loved ones, cut down in the bloody conflict. We are to a certain extent the appointed guardians of those who are permitted to remain at home. Our earnest prayer should often ascend to Him, who, amid the turmoil of battle, controls the destinies of armies, that He will soon proclaim "Peace on Earth" and enable those who are permitted to remain at home to walk in the paths of duty.

As we meet from time to time in our associated capacity, to attend to the business of those who have placed us here, let us bear in mind that we are the people's servants, delegated by them for a time, to attend to their interests, to protect them and their property, and as we are so, to promote their comfort and happiness. Our duties will prove pleasant and agreeable if we enter upon their discharge with a kindly spirit, and steadily aim at the accomplishment of those things best calculated to conduce to the public good. With an anxious desire to promote the welfare of our city, we shall most earnestly secure the peace for ourselves in the work we have to do. I therefore, to the end of our duty to enter, with me, upon the discharge of your obligations to the city with a cheerful spirit.

Let us be punctual and regular in our attendance upon the meetings of the council. Each one of us should realize the great importance of punctuality in all our appointments. Decide upon the hour at which we shall meet, and then let no one presume to say that five minutes after the time fixed will do well. One member who, by his absence, keeps his fellows waiting, inflicts upon them an injury which should be avoided, and I trust there may be no case of complaint in this respect. We have no right to be unreasonable in our demands upon those who serve them. They will expect us to enforce the laws of the state and the ordinances of the city. They will require of us the preservation of good order and the maintenance of their rights and privileges. I am unequivocally in favor of sustaining every law which is a law, and shall, to the utmost of my ability, enforce every enactment. If the existing machinery of our city government shall prove insufficient for this purpose, I anticipate your hearty cooperation in any effort to make it more efficient. The city charter is our municipal constitution. By it we must be rigidly governed. We must respect the every law, and impartially enforce every precept. I am thus particular in calling your attention to this matter because I desire that you may at a very early day examine, for yourselves, the ordinance, and if opposed to any of them, more for their repeal. The charter makes it my duty to see that all laws are enforced, and I have no other right nor disposition to discriminate. There are persons in all communities who totally refuse to work where there is no pay, but are ever ready to criticize and denounce the acts of those who bear this burden. I have long since learned to disregard the howlings of this class of fault-finding drones. I had much rather see a man occasionally make a mistake in the exercise of his duties than to see him constantly whining over what others do. I ask your cooperation, therefore, in this matter of commanding obedience to all law, and let us have a city noted for its order and general cleanliness, as it is so remarkable for its thrift and prosperity.

Table with 2 columns: Year and Amount. Rows show bond maturities for 1863, 1864, 1865, and 1866.

It will be noticed that we have no bonds maturing until the year 1866, and have only to provide for the interest each year until then, which will be $2,200. The bonds which have matured have all been paid, and also the interest upon those outstanding. I congratulate you upon this condition of our treasury. With the exercise of rigid economy in our current expenses, I cannot believe that our taxes, even in these war times, will be burdensome upon the people. By a law passed at the last session of our legislature we are authorized to reassess the taxes in this city for the years 1854, 1855, 1856 and 1857. This action became necessary by reason of illegality in former assessments. The work of reassessment under that law has been completed, and the assessment rolls are now in the hands of our treasurer for the collection of those taxes. The amount of money which should be received from this source for city purposes is about $10,000. This will materially aid in lightening the city taxes for the coming year. In view of our condition, I cannot look for that pressure in the matter of taxation which is anticipated by many of our citizens. It is clear that whenever our taxes shall be equally borne by property holders, and the amount paid into the treasury with any degree of promptness, none will feel oppressed by the aid they are called upon to render for the support of the government. The law for the reassessment of taxes alluded to, was drawn up with much care, and it is in all respects just and right. It is intended to be so, and it should be so, and it is the duty of each one of us to see that no difficulty can arise in the enforcement of its provisions. The statement recently published from the finance committee of the last council, together with the very full and accurate account of the treasurer thereto annexed, is a clear exposition of our affairs, and I can not do better than refer you to that, as containing the precise information you will desire as a basis of starting point for your operations for the year upon which you now enter. The committee has been unwearied in its labors throughout the past year, and has rendered a service to the city of great value.

Our charter has been so amended by an act of the last legislature as to greatly aid you in your work of improving the streets. All our streets need your attention, and as the charter gives you power, in a simple and easy form, to repair a street, and to lay it in any place where work is needed, and to collect the expense thereof from the lot or lots which ought to pay for the same, I earnestly urge each one of you to the performance of this duty in your respective wards. Much has been done, and will do, in the matter of street work the past year, and the people are waiting with commendable patience for decent sidewalks. I trust they will speedily witness your active labors in this behalf all over the city. We are well located for having good streets and sidewalks at small expense, and now, with the amended charter, there can be no excuse for the neglect of this duty. The citizens of each ward should hold the aldermen responsible for the discharge of this duty especially, and I hope they will require of you a strict account in this matter.

We have been shamefully negligent in regard to sidewalks, and I recommend immediate action on this subject in every ward. On the business streets walks should be of full width and substantial, while upon other streets they may be constructed at a very small expense to answer the purpose, but by all means build sidewalks of some kind upon every street having sidewalks upon it.

Licensed for the sale of spirituous liquors have been arranged that they all expire on the 15th day of May next. This subject will require your attention. The charter provides that licenses may be granted to any person paying therefor a certain sum of money specified therein, while the practice heretofore has been to grant licenses for a less sum than that named in the charter. It may well be doubted whether the practice which has prevailed has the sanction of law. My own opinion is entirely adverse to such a construction. In this matter, as in all others, I know of no way to do but to follow the law, and I hold the charter to be our law. I recommend to you the careful consideration of this subject before the time when the present licenses will expire in order that you may be prepared to act when we shall be called upon to grant licenses for the coming year.

Our public schools are probably not excelled by any in the west, and are very justly the pride of our people. I cannot, however, approve of the system of free schools any further than the teaching of the common branches of education therein, deeming it, as I do, unjust to tax the people beyond this. But to have all the children in community taught, free of charge, all things necessary for the pursuit of life is one of the highest aims of a christian people; and I could wish that parents might be enabled to give their children the advantages of an education thus freely offered them. One charter, however, so completely divorces the management of the schools from the common council, that, really, you are in no way, as a board, responsible for the conduct of that department. To the school commissioners the people must look, in reference to the discharge of all the functions appertaining to our schools. They alone are entitled to all the praise, as they are liable to any censure growing out of that management.

I may say, however, before leaving this subject, that the expense of sustaining our present system of schools is greater than the charter contemplates or our people would approve.

The amount of money received for the school fund the past year from all sources is $8,000, while the cost of sustaining the schools has been about $10,000. The propriety of thus incurring debt is manifest, but this council has no power over this subject. If a much larger sum than is raised, were necessary to give to every child a common school education, I would urge the raising of that larger sum, but convinced as I am that this debt is the result of sustaining the higher department of the high school building, I am unwilling in any manner to be considered or held responsible for that expenditure. Good ward schools with the common English branches taught therein, is all that I am willing to advocate as a public necessity in the way of free education. Having expressed my views on this subject very fully a year ago from this stand, and entertaining now even more freely the reforms then uttered, I include the hope that needed reform will at an early day be inaugurated in this department.

The public ground known as court house square should be fenced and otherwise improved. A small expense in that direction would be an improvement very desirable indeed, as it would, to the comfort and convenience of many citizens. It would materially assist that particular part of the city, and most assuredly meet the cordial approval of our entire population.

I trust this suggestion may meet with a response in action.

Our fire department needs your fostering care. The hoses and apparatus are in good order, but the companies are not filled up so as to render efficient aid in time of fire. Cannot a plan be devised which will infuse new life into this department, which is so important for the protection of property. I am aware of the difficulty of exciting an interest in a matter of this kind in this time, but it is due to those faithful men who are enlisted in this company that we should bid them so far as we can in completing and keeping up their organizations.

In conclusion, gentlemen, I must regard you as bound together for a common object with no political divisions as to be harbored here. You must for the sake of the city, and I do not doubt, you are willing to labor disinterestedly in this behalf. You have a right to expect that the people will aid, by the prompt payment of their taxes as they shall be called upon, and then they may safely look for a faithful account from you of the disbursement of their dollars thus contributed. I am aware of but one avenue of expenditure which a good citizen will keep prominently in view as of prior importance. The regular and systematic payments in support of the religious institutions of our country will stand first, because upon the maintenance of them, under God, depends every variance as one of the nations of the earth. While we are witnessing the onward march of our victorious armies, and looking forward to a final triumph of our cause, the heart sickens at the remembrance of the thousands being slain in this wicked rebellion, and we will do well to pray earnestly to the Father of all Mercies that He will stay the hand of the destroyer, and bring us out of this dark and gloomy hour, uniting again this once proud and prosperous Union in one common brotherhood.

APPOINTMENT OF KUCHEVY.—In the important case alluded to in your yesterday's Gazette, we learn that S. J. M. Putnam, Esq., sheriff of Rock county, has been appointed receiver, and that he is now making prodigious efforts to procure security.

When this is accomplished, he will at once enter upon his duties, and take possession of the jackline, hens and the rooster. In the meantime, until he shall so qualify, the above discovered property will continue to stand in its present position. Meanwhile, other suitors will select some other officer to take charge of their condemned wares and merchandise.

Public Meeting.

The citizens of the city of Janesville are invited to meet at the COURT ROOM on SATURDAY EVEN'G, the 26th inst., at half-past seven o'clock, to take such measures as may be deemed most appropriate to commemorate on Thursday next the death of our late governor, the Hon. L. P. HARTY.

J. BODWELL DOE, Mayor.

JANESVILLE, April 24, 1862.

Proceedings of the City Council.

REGULAR MEETING.

THURSDAY EVENING, April 24th, 1862.

Present—The Mayor, Ald. Bates, Barnes, Collins, McChesney, Patten, Patison, Shelton and Winans.

The bonds of the Mayor, City Clerk and the new aldermen were approved.

On motion of Ald. Bates the rules governing the late council were adopted for the present council.

The Mayor read the following message:

Gentlemen of the Council:—Many of our friends and neighbors have gone from us to fight the battles of our common country. They fight with deadly weapons, and in their strife for the preservation of the republic, many have made and many more will make, sacrifices in the bloody conflict. We are to a certain extent, appointed guardians of such as are permitted to remain at home. Our earnest prayer should ever ascend to Him, who smiteth the tyrant of old, to control the destinies of armies, that He will soon proclaim "Peace on Earth" and enable absent ones to return to their accustomed walks in our midst.

As we meet from time to time in our associated capacity, to attend to the business of those who have placed us here, let us bear in mind that we are the people's servants, delegated by them for a time, to attend to their interests, to protect them and their, and so far as we are able, to promote their comfort and happiness. Our duties will prove pleasant and agreeable if we enter upon their discharge with a kindly spirit, and steadily aim at the accomplishment of those things best calculated to conduce to the public good. With an anxious desire to promote the welfare of others, we shall most earnestly secure the richest peace for ourselves in the work we have to do. I, therefore, invite each one of you to enter, with me, upon the discharge of your obligations here with a cheerful spirit.

Let us be punctual and regular in our attendance upon the meetings of the council. Each one of us should realize the great importance of punctuality in all our appointments. Decide upon the hour at which we shall meet, and be there on time. Let us be prompt in the time fixed will do us as much credit as any other who, by his absence, keeps his fellows waiting, in defiance upon an injury which should be avoided, and I trust there will be no cause of complaint in this respect. We have a population not unreasonably in their demands upon those who serve them. They will expect us to enforce the laws of the state and the order of the city. They will require of us the preservation of good order and the maintenance of the rights and privileges. I am unhesitatingly in favor of extending every law while it exists or a law, and shall, to the utmost of my ability, enforce every enactment. If the existing machinery of our city government shall prove insufficient for this purpose, I anticipate your hearty cooperation in any effort I may make to render it more efficient. The city charter is our municipal constitution. By it we must be rigidly governed. We must respect its every page, and impartially enforce its every precept. I am thus particular in calling your attention to this matter because I desire that you may at a very early day examine, for yourselves, the order, and if opposed to any of them, move for their repeal. The charter makes it my duty to see that all laws are enforced, and I have neither the right nor disposition to discriminate. There are persons in all communities who refuse to work where there is no pay, but who are ready to criticize and denounce the acts of those who bear this burden. I have long been amazed to disregard the howlings of this class of half-breed drones. I had much rather see a man occasionally make a mistake in the active exercise of his duties than to see him constantly whining over what others do. I ask your cooperation, therefore, in this matter of commanding obedience to all law, and let us have a city well governed and general cleanliness, as it is so remarkable for its thrift and prosperity.
